Side Notes:

- 1. The images of the tracks/courses displayed here have embedded links to take you directly to them on DataCamp, you just have to click on them.
- 2. To know more about specialization in Data Science, you can go through this slide.
- 3. By the time you're through this roadmap, you should be more familiar with how to pick the right courses to learn next or what more interesting projects to work on, if need be...

But for further guidance, make use of the filters on the courses and projects pages (images attached below, respectively):
